Info: An In-School Deferment has been applied to your loan(s)

Account Number: 004951797-11

Note ID: 3625695

Dear Kristine,

We received confirmation that you are currently eligible for a temporary postponement of payments on your loan(s). The following In-School Deferment has been applied to your loan(s):

Student Loan In-School Deferment -- We received confirmation that you are currently enrolled in school and therefore have deferred your student loan. You are eligible to defer your payments for up to a total of eight years as long as you remain enrolled at least half-time in a degree granting program at an approved school.

Based on the information provided, your loans are currently deferred until 12/16/2027. You will not receive billing statements while your loan is in In-School Deferment; however you will be able to view your account balances online. After the end of your In-School Deferment, you will receive a billing statement at least 20 days prior to your due date.

During an In-School Deferment period, your interest will continue to accrue. If you do not pay all the accrued interest before your In-School Deferment ends, this accrued interest may be added to your outstanding principal balance at the end of the In-School Deferment period, which may result in a higher monthly payment and will increase the overall cost of your loan. For more information about interest and whether to pay it now or wait until your loan(s) enter repayment, please review the back of this letter.

By using this payment relief option, you may postpone or be disqualified from eligibility for any incentives such as interest rate reductions for auto debit or on-time payments and co-signer release options.

Auto Debit During In-School Deferment

If you're enrolled in auto debit your payments have been paused and will resume once your loan(s) enters repayment.

Interest Capitalization Example

This chart shows you the difference between paying interest during In-School Deferment, or not paying it and allowing the interest to be capitalized. In this example, both scenarios begin with a $15,000 principal balance at a 9.00% interest rate. Paying the interest during In-School Deferment lowers the monthly payment by about $17 and saves about $702 over the life of the loan.

	Principal Balance	Capitalized Interest for 12 Months	Principal to be Repaid	Monthly Payment After In-School Deferment	Number of Payments	Total Amount to be Repaid	Total Interest to be Paid
Interest is paid during In-School Deferment	$15,000.00	$0.00	$15,000.00	$190.01	120	$24,151.64	$9,151.64
Interest is capitalized at the end of the In-School Deferment	$15,000.00	$1,350.00	$16,350.00	$207.11	120	$24,853.79	$9,853.79
